DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 2. Claims 1, 3, 5 and 6 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 3820464 issued to Dixon. Dixon discloses a fragment explosive projectile comprising an inner shell; an explosive charge 20 surrounded by said inner shell 22; an outer casing 26 enclosing said inner shell 16; and, netting 38 located between the outside surface of said inner shell 16 and the outer case 16, 26.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 2. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dixon in view of U.S. 5979332 issued to Hammer. Dixon discloses a fragmenting explosive as described above. However, Dixon does not disclose a plastic case. Hammer discloses a plastic case. At the time of the invention, one of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to make the Dixon case of plastic. The suggestion/motivation for doing so would have been to make the projectile lightweight.

- 3. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dixon in view of Lips. Dixon discloses a fragmenting explosive as described above with the exception of an explicit disclosure of the material of the inner shell16. Lips discloses a fragmentation projectile with inner and outer shells made of steel or tungsten. Not only is the use of steel or tungsten for fragmentation components well known in the art, it would also have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art for the reasons cited by Lips, namely, the sustaining of acceleration forces and higher characteristic acoustic impedance. (Col. 3, II. 58 to col. 4, II. 28).
- 4. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dixon. Dixon discloses a fragmentation projectile as described above with the exception of an explicit disclosure that the case constitutes a nose cone. The nose cone of Dixon appears to be separate from said case. However, it has been held that to make elements separable involves only routine skill in the art. MPEP 2144.04 (C.).

Conclusion

- 5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art cited on form PTO-892 are cited as of interest to show similar fragmentation projectiles.
